

A BRIGHT FUTURE AHEAD WITH TRIMBLE

Trimble acquired Savcor Oy to gain growth and market presence in Europe, South-America and in heavy process industries globally. The acquisition included Savcor Forestry and Process Analytics businesses.

Savcor and Trimble in Finland, Germany, Brazil and Canada will continue to serve their customers with no changes. Trimble are committed to continuing the relationship with all existing customers and look forward to meeting them.

Trimble and Savcor combined offering will have a more comprehensive coverage of the forestry and wood products industry value chain. Savcor Wedge™ Process Diagnostics is an extension to Trimble current offering serving customers in the heavy process industries.

– The Savcor acquisition build upon our strategy to provide global customers with a complete end-to-end ecosystem for forest management, traceability and timber processing, said Ken Moen, general manager of Trimble's Forestry Division.

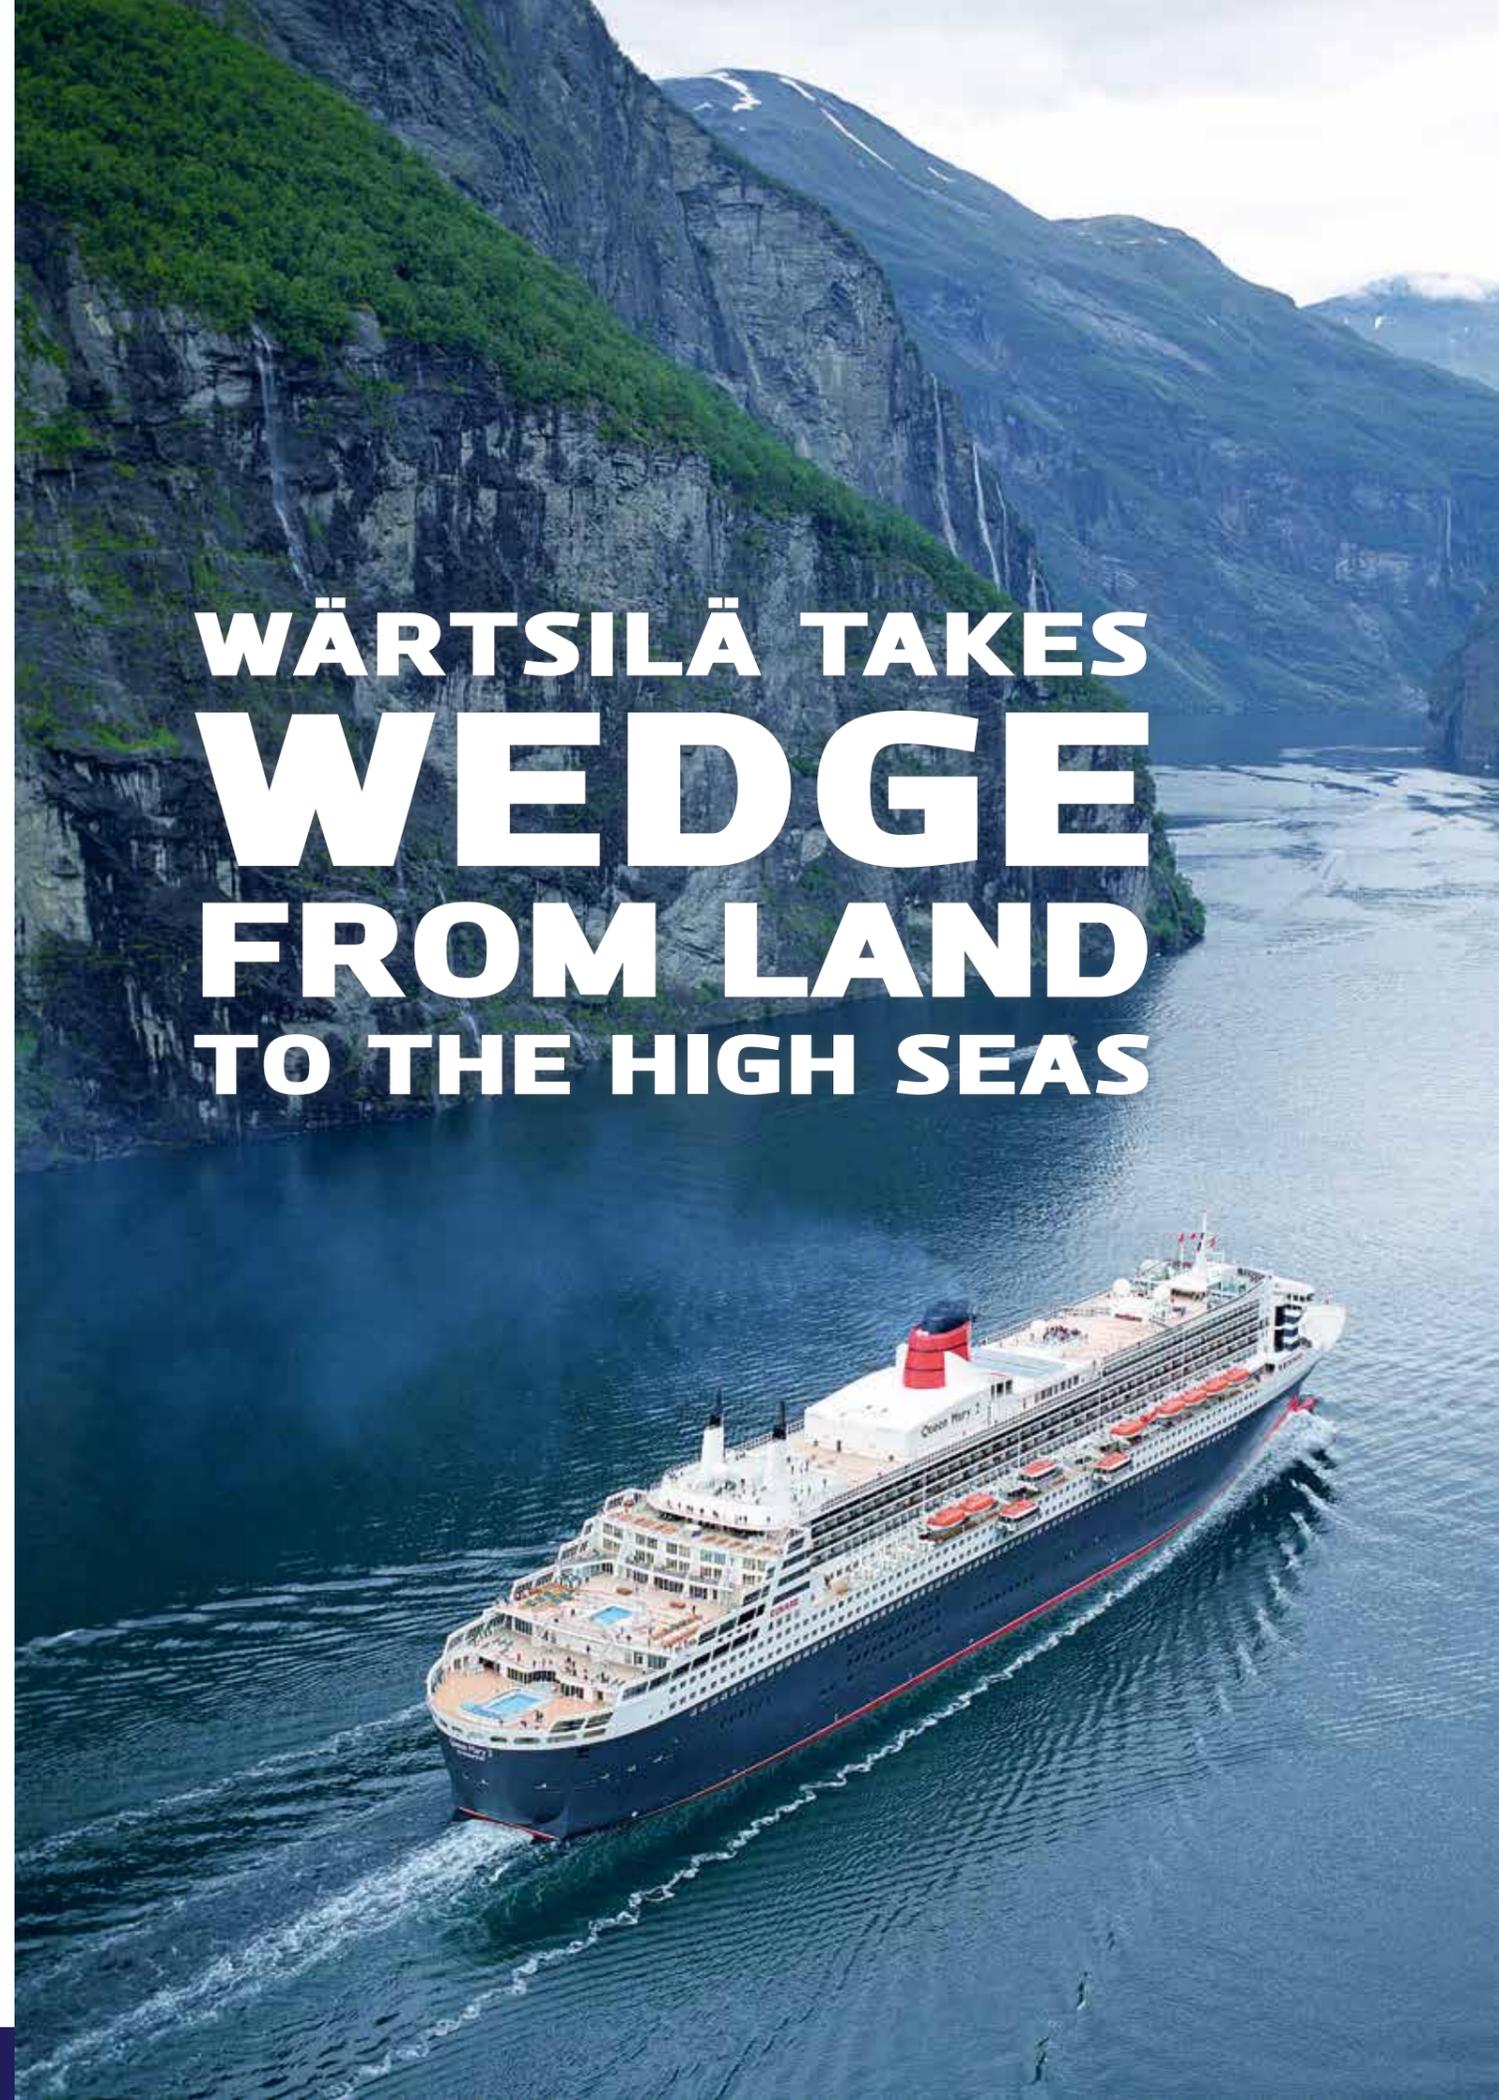

– Our fundamental focus is to provide integrated solutions that drive agility, improve efficiency and provide better visibility at each stage of the forest lifecycle. Savcor is a mature company, which has solid expertise, strong domain knowledge and customer relationships with industry leaders, Moen adds.
